—The base ball match at Yellow Springs, Ohio, Saturday, between the Checimant Club of Chechart to the Mismi Club of Chechart to t for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1857, and the acts supplementary thereto, now proper and constitutional. However, in reference to those measures, they have undergone no change, but on the courtary, have been strengthened by the results which have attended their execution everywhere. I could not consent to a bill which is based upon the assumption that an act of rebellion of a portion of the people, Arkansas seceeded from the Union, or that Congress may at its pleasure except or exclude any State from the Union, or interrupt its relation with the Government, by arbitrarily depriving it of representation in the Senate and House of Representatives. If Arkansas is not a State in the Union, this bill does not admit it as a State. If, on the other hand, it is a State in the Union, no legislation is necessary to declare it entitled to representation in Congress as one of the States of the Union. The Constitution aiready declares that each State shall be a state without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal suffrage in that State; that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal is suffrage in that State; that no State, without its consent, shall be deprived of its equal is lift constitutional relations to the Government is a decision by each House upon the eligibility of those presenting their credentials and claiming seats in the respective Houses of Congress. This is the plain and simple plan of the Constitution, and believing that had it been pursued when Congress ascended in the month of December, 1855, the restoration of the States would long sace have been completed.

LONDON, June 20.—To-day being the anniversary of the accession of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria, to the throne of England, has been observed as a boliday in this metropolis, and has also been observed by appropriate sautes throughout the realms of the English Government. The city has been gaity decorated with flag and streamers, and the naval vessels, as well as the mercantile marine of all nations, have been profuse in the display of colors. Immense crowds filled the street-, mainly to witness the grand review of the volunteers by the Queen and royal family at Windsor, towards which point they have been wending their way on railway trains. The day has been made the especial occasion for a grand review of the regular and volunteer troops at Windsor Park, where for several days they have been arriving in large numbers from different points.

Salutes were fired from Windsor Castle and other prominent Government places at sunrise, noon and sunset. The barracks at Windsor were gaily decorated and festooned. The troops were in full dress uniform. The weather was comparatively fine, though the morning was threatening, which had the effect of preventing many thousands from attending. With the exception of a slight shower, there was nothing to mar the splendor of the parade. The troops in line numbered 27,000 of the different arms, and while being reviewed by Her Majesty and her brilliant suit of generals and officers of the royal household, presented a scene of grandeur and enthusiasm seldom, if ever, before witnessed in this country. After marching past and saluting the Queen and royal contege, the troops paid a marching salute to the chelisk of the grand jublice which took places in 1820, then defiled over a pontoon bridge across the troops paid a marching salute to the chelisk of the grand jublice which took places in 1820, then defiled over a pontoon bridge across the troops paid a marching salute to the chelisk of the grand jublice which took places in

We dipped our pen into the inkstand seventeen several distinct times, and scratched our Web-sterian head where the hair is growing thin, in the vain attempt to "think up" something smart to write about Brother Peed's marriage. But we are not "i 'the vein" and the subject is altogether too solemn for jesting. To think of that beautiful woman (of course she is beautiful, or the editor wouldn't have married her) throwing herself away on an editor, is sad, indeed. In a selfah point of view, Mr. Peed has made a good thing of it, and the society of Dover Hill has cause to or it, and the society of Devertiff and cause to rejoice over the occasion. LAVE DEVELIN. Chairman Democratic State Cent'l. Com. Paying the National Debt with

The Evansville Journal in again noticing our comments upon a speech recently made liciously misrepresented the position of upon the greenback question, attempts, to once more justify its mistatements by the following quotation from the Cincinnati En-

"The Convention [the Missouri] passed no "The Convention [the Missouri] passed no resolution, either by way of platform on the current political issues, nor by way of instruction to their delegates. But we have an 'irreversable guaranty' on both these subjects—to use a form of expression sanctioned by our radical brethren—on the men selected. They are unanimously in favor of discharging the national debt in legal tenders AS ADVOUGHIED BY MK, PENDLETON, and will accordingly cast their votes for him in the Convention, as the author and best representative of that policy."

Just so. The Democracy are "in favor of discharging the national debt in legal tenders." as advocated by Mr. PENDLETON, but CUMBACK'S representation of Mr. PENDLE- feel, the evil effect of her spicidal and and m TON's plan of discharging the public debt is a malicious and willful misrepresentation. Here is what CUMBACK said:

"Yet now this jewel of Democratic consistency proposes to issue twenty-five hundred millions of these same unconstitutional green-backs, and pay the whole debt with them. backs, and pay the whole debt with them. But the Republican theory is thatevery dollar of this national debt, whether in seven-thirties, ten-forties or five-twenties, shall be paid dollar for dollar, that it is as sacred to the Republican party, to use the language of General Hawley, as the solders' graves. Mr. Pendicton would issue greenbacks in such quantities as to a stroy the value of every dollar of that currency, and nake it utterly worthless." The Evansville radical sheet, after quoting this extract, inquires: "Now, what we want to know is, does th "Now, what we want to know is, does the Enquirer "willfully and knowingly" lie, when it says Mr. Pendleton advocates dis-charging the national debt in legal tenders! If not, how can Mr. Cumback be lying when he asserts the same thing? We have ques-tioned the SERTINEL repeatedly on this point, but it is as dumb as an oyster."

Mr. CUMBACK does not assert the same thing as Mr. PENDLETON in regard to the payment of the public debt. Mr. PENDLETO has not, neither have the Democracy proposed to issue twenty five hundred millions of constitutional greenbacks" and pay the whole debt with them. Nor have either proposed to issue greenbacks in such quantities as to destroy the value of every dollar of that currency and make it almost worthless," as Mr. CUMBACK insists, and which he knew was a falsehood when he uttered it.

How does Mr. PENDLETON propose to "discharge the national debt in legal tenders?" We answer, not by inflating the currency so as to destroy its value. On the other hand, referring to the 5-20 bonds, he says expressly: "I maintain that these 5.20 bonds should be paid as fast as possible to do so without inflating the currency beyond a safe and just point,"

Is not this the position of the Indiana Republican Convention? It declared that 5.20 onds should be paid in legal tenders, and paid in such quantities as will make the circulation commensurate with the comm wants of the country, and so as to avoid too great inflation of the currency and an increase in the price of gold." Would that be destroy BACK accepted the nomination for Lieutenan Governor upon a platform that would "make the greenback currency utterly worthless." Mr. Pendleton, in his speeches in the political canvass of last fall discussing the debt

"Bear in mind that I am trying to convince you that these bonds can be paid in green-backs without inflating the currency. Bear in mind this can be accomplished in twelve or fourteen years, without the addition of one foliar to your taxation, or one dollar to your circulating medium. Does this position give any justification whatever to the malicious misrepresentations of CUMBACK as to the plan advocated by Mr. PENDLETON for the discharge of the public debt? Mr. PENDLETON estimates that the un liquidated debt, consisting of greenbacks and unadjusted claims, amounts to about hundred millions. It is the policy of the Republican party to convert this non-interes paying debt into bonds bearing six per cent interest in gold, which would draw from Treasury annually forty-eight millions in cold. Three hundred millions of currenc has been issued to the National Banks upon the collateral security of United States b and upon which they draw annually eighteen millions of interest in gold. This amount could be saved if greenbacks were substituted for National Bank notes. have clearly shown that sixty-six millions of gold could be thus saved annually, which is equal to about ninety-two millions in greenbacks? If greenbacks were substitu national bank notes, the 5-20 bonds could be reduced to fourteen hundred millions. If the ninety-two millions that could be annually saved, as has been suggested, and if thi nt was appropriated as a sinking fund. the 5-20 bonds could be paid in about twelve years without adding one dollar to taxation.

one dollar to the circulating medium. The total expenditures of the Government during the last year of Mr. Buchanan's ad stration were about seventy-five millions When the war closed, if the Republican administration had reduced the yearly ordinary expenditures to about one hundred millions, as it might have done with proper sconomy, by this time the public debt could with greenbacks ere this, just as advocated by Mr. PENDLETON, but a different policy prevaled and the vast debt consequently is still an incubus upon the industry of the Nation.

Mr. PENDLETON does not advocate the discharge of the public debt as represented by Charge of the public debt as represented by the debt of the people's power. It is here they give voice to their whate and desires.

adopted as a part of its platform:

Fifth—That we are in favor of the payment of the Government bonds in treasury notes, commonly called "greenbacks," (except where expressly made payable in gold by law,) at the earliest practicable period. The public debt, or that portion of it which loss not by express terms provide otherwise as the Republican State platform says, "should be paid in legal tenders" and can be, as every man of common sagacity and honesty must admit, without, as Mr. Cumback falsely charges cracy with the intention of sauing twenty-five hundred millions "to pay the whole debt with them" or "green acks in such quantities as to destroy value of every dollar of that currency, and make it utterly worthless," but otherwise it is their policy to discharge the public debt with out debasing or lessening the present value of greenbacks or legal tender notes, or adding a dollar to the present taxation. The New Southern Bulers

The leading radicals do not seem to be very warmly enamored of the carpet-baggers and very mean Southern whites, which the reconstruction scheme has thrown on top as the Governors and members of Congress of the "reconstructed" States of the South. The Washington correspondent of that ultra radical sheet, the Cincinnati Gazette, writes that paper:
"We are soon to have the Southern State

"We are soon to have the Southern States readmitted under the present reconstruction—Virginia, Texas (and possibly Alabama) alone excepted. The Republican party has hitherto calculated upon great political gain from this admission. The leaders are now less confident. It must be confessed that neither the iruits of reconstruction aiready accomplished, nor the promises from the other States, are specially encouraging. * * * "God only knows what we are to do with these creatures," exclaimed one of the leading members of the Republican party, and one of its most prominent members of Congress, "they seem to be without character at nome; they have not very much hope of retaining their hold on their districts after the first election; and a good many of them are sure to go in for making the most they can out of their positions while they have them." Perhaps the Congressman was severe in his judgment; but there is no doubt that the feeling among many of the leaders grows to be that in seeking for Republican strength at the South, we have got a very large elephant of very uncertain disposition on our hands."

very uncertain disposition on our hands."

What can the matter be? It is not possible road Company, will furnish tickets to all that there is a bigger thief among them than Beast Butler. It is very likely that the most, if not all, of them will go in "for making the most they can out of their positions while they have them," but isn't this exactly just what the present radicals in Congress are doing themselves? We fear that where the Northern States are afraid the "plunder won't be sufficient to go round in sufficiently big slices, and that their brother rads, from the South, lank, lean and hungry, as they are, $1,500.

will gobble more than their share!

But what a confession we have, as detaile by this correspondent. And this is the fruit of reconstruction! These be lyour Gods, oh radicalism! These needy adventurers and unprincipled southern scalawags—the scum of society and the fit associates and companlons of negroes-whose venality and corruption are so proverbial that even their own partisans dread the effect of their bare-faced inieving and bribery upon the fortunes of a party which has aiready acquired an infamous ctoriety for its corrupt acts-are to be the rulers of the South! A greater scourge could not afflict that poor, impoverished, and bleed-ing country, but it is a scourge that will lay its withering and blasting hand upon Northern as well as Southern prosperity. The prosperity of one section is essential, nay indispensable, to the prosperity of the other.

New political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising; the views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people.

THE RADICAL NOMINATION.—The nomination made by the radical Congressional Convention at Gesport has Thursday will strike every one as a surrender in advance on the part of that party. Major William Wirt Carter, as the Express digalifies the nominee, is scarcely a fifth-rate Clay County lawyer; a gentleman with a barren local reputation, and not prominent for any of those abilities which we have a right to express should characterize the Congressional nominee of a party claiming all the intelligence in the country. In a military point of view his career was not more brilliant than has been his civil life.

Attached to the unfortunate Seventy-first regiment the Major was a particupant in all its misfortunes, and no grand chivairie act on his part during the war goes to relieve the creatness of his record.

There were three candidates before the convention, and either of the other two, Col. McLean and General Hunter, are gentlemen of vastly more intellectual culture, and possess more enviable military records than the nomines. Why they should have been discarded in favor of Major William Wirt Carter can be accounted for only upon the supposition, that the cance of radicalism is looked-upon as hopeless in this district. The examination of the various classes began on Thursday of last week, and continued until Tuesday evening of this week. The examinations in all the departments were entirely satisfactory, not only to the spectators generally, but especially to the patrons of the school. The advancement and proficiency of the students in the various branches of learning showed that they have been under the tulorage of educators who are determined to make scholars of them, and not mere sheepatin graduates, as is too often the case. We never had the pleasure of attending exercises of the kind that were more entirely satisfactory, and we feel that in Southeastern Indiana they have given Moore's Hill College a character for usefulness that will be enduring, and have established it as one of the first educational institutions in the land. The society anniversaries – the Philomikean and Sigournean—were had on Tuesday of this week, and were complete successes. Especially did the Sigourneans acquist themselves most creditably.

A Kind Heart—A Tree French Remaine.

Knowing that the general class of readers are more interested in tales founded upon facts than fiction, we give the following sketch, which, although rivaling many of those romantic pictures drawn by flotting writers, vouched for by an old English Journa, and merely posished by the pen of the writer.

A newly married ouple had just come from the altar, and were about starting on a bridge turn, as the following conversation took place:

The newly married husband took one of his bride's hands in his own. "Allow me," said the are of one of those fairy takes which amused the an itianol. It seems to me shall am the heart of the story." The same a fection, but a history."

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

INDIANAPOLIS, SATURDAY EVENING. June 20, 1868. The following are the quotations of Government bonds, gold, etc.:

CINCINNATI, Friday, June 19.

The market for provisions during the patweek has changed but little, prices remaining about the same as last reported. The deman theseen enticely consumetive, speculators preferring to stand back until matters cultumate. The crops in the South at this time promise and should the worm not interfere with the cotton, large crops will be made. The Southern wheat crop is sate and large. Corn is promising as well as cott, and with this combination we may look for a good fall trade in provisions as there is no extra supply south, nor no large stock. North. The market closes quiet, but very firm Mess Pork—Has ruled at about $28, all the week, and closes steaved at $28, 50, buyers' option for July. Extra prime pork, of which there are about 1,000 bar els here can be had at $24. No rumps at any price. CINCINNATI, Friday, June 19.

RUNAWAY .- The team of George Slaugh, a hard-fisted and hard-headed yeoman of the African persussion, ran away on Indiana avenue, Saturday afternoon, demolishing the signs of three barber shops in its furious flight. Slaugh was thrown out of the wagon, and lit upon his head. If any other part of his person had first come in contact with the carth, the fall would have made "cold Slaugh" of him, and then he would have been Slaughtered. Fortunately the street was bouldered at the point of impact, and was not damaged. The barbers whose poles were torn down, are deeply indignant, and it is understood will commence suit against Slaugh.

GENTLEMEN: While a son of my friend M Trancisco de Mattos Pinrents (a large proprietor in the Cidade de Campos) was staying at my house he was attacked with intermittent fever. Immediately I sent for the very clever Dr. Tonocc, who is thought a great deal of in Campos, but the fever, instead of diminishing, turned, continued and typical the continued and typical typic but the fever, instead of diminishing, turned, continued, and typhoid, the boy (14 years old) could not speak, would not take the broths, and throughed agreed deal of coaxing to make him swallow the medicines. Dr. Tinoco declared that there was not the slightest hope of saving the boy's life; that it would be advisable to write to his father and inform him of the state of his on's health. At that moment I thought of the well spoken Dr. Radway & Co.'s medicament and applied them in the following manner: One teaspoonful of Relief in a tumbler of water, di teaspoontul of netter in a value of wave, viding it three doses a day; frictions with the Belief pure on the chest, back and wris's; three (of Radway's) Pills every day, and well covered so that he might perspire. Second day, hall an hour after meals, one desert-spoon of Resol-vent and water.
